INTERNATIONAL LIVE STOCK
EXPOSITION CALLED OFF.

(Special to the Alma Record.)
Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill.

It is with extreme regret that I have to announce that the International Live Stock Exposition for 1914 has been declared off, by reason of the appearance of the dreaded "foot and mouth" disease in the East and this middle Western country.

The Federal Government have taken the most careful and energetic action to confine the disease in the region of its appearance, and it has been deemed unwise to bring together the enormous crowds that flock to the "International."

As you are well aware, the Union Stock Yards has been closed down for a period of ten days, the first time in fifty years that not a hoof has been in the yards. Under Federal inspection, it was thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, and all stock is now being unloaded in daylight under Federal inspection, in order to prevent any possibility of any infection.

All interests here at the yards are co-operating most energetically in supporting the Government and States in the elimination of this dreaded scourge of Europe. Every one should heartily co-operate in this endeavor to stamp out, in no uncertain manner, this awful disease, and not permit it to jeopardize the value of their herds and flocks.

Very truly yours,
B. H. HEIDE,
Secretary.

Red and White Holsteins.

Red and white Holsteins are often found in Holland. In this country they are not eligible to registration. It is not at all surprising that now and then a black and white pure bred Holstein bull should throw red and white calves, for undoubtedly the remote ancestors of a great many Holstein cattle were red and white.

Limewater For Calves.

Limewater is recommended for bowel trouble and scours in calves. To make limewater take a lump of quicklime the size of an unshelled walnut and stake it in a quart of water. Let the sediment settle, strain and then use the liquid to mix with milk for calves or sops for pigs.

When you have indigestion, gastritis or sour stomach you don't want a slow uncertain remedy. Use Mi-o-na Tablets—perfectly harmless, but act quickly and effectively or nothing to pay. Chas. Rhodes.

PANAMA EXPOSITION.

Mr. W. E. Wolfenden, General Passenger Agent of the Pere Marquette Railroad, has just returned from California, where he attended the Convention of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents. While there the members of the Association and their families inspected the progress of the work on the buildings and grounds of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco, and the Panama-California Exposition at San Diego.
Mr. Wolfenden returned impressed with the magnitude of both enterprises. He gives full concurrence to the resolution which follows:

"The American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents, assembled at San Francisco, Calif., October 14th, 1914, and later at San Diego, after having inspected the progress of the work on the buildings and grounds of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, and the Panama-California Exposition, desires to place itself upon record as follows:

"First: That the Association is profoundly impressed with the nobility of the scale on which those Expositions are planned, and with their wonderful beauty in detail.

"Second: That the Association is struck with the astonishing progress of the work, all the exhibit buildings being completed, and the installation of exhibits from the forty-three states and territories and forty foreign countries going on.

"Third: That in the opinion of this Association there is no doubt that the Expositions will be completely ready on their respective opening dates.

"Fourth: That in the opinion of this Association the Panama-Pacific International Exposition and the Panama-California Exposition, in plans and execution, in grandeur and conception, and in the beauty of detail in programme and performance, will be commensurate with the great national events which they celebrate, creditable to the nations which celebrate, and an honor to California, the hostess State.

"Fifth: And, it is hereby

"Resolved, That the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, and the Panama-California Exposition, in educational value, in artistic stimulus, in beauty and in interest, justify the members of this Association in urging every one who wishes to be abreast with culture to come and stay long at the Panama-Pacific International
Exposition."
